BATTLE AXE'S BOOK OF THE MONTH

Lightning Keeper

by Starling Lawrence

This is the story of an unlikely love at the dawn of the electric age in America. In 1914, Toma Pekocevic is a penniless immigrant in New York. He is also a gifted inventor who designs a revolutionary water turbine while working with Harriet Bigelow, scion of a proud Connecticut iron-making dynasty now fallen on hard times. Their attraction is immediate and overwhelming, but every circumstance is against them. Skillfully intertwining fact and fiction, the Lawrence generates an electric history of ideas, kindled by the flames of capital and passion.
